

DAVID J. BECK

PARTNER

David J. Beck is consistently recognized as one of our country's best trial lawyers. This recognition has grown from the consistent results he has achieved for his clients in his many years of practice. From the smallest disputes to the billion dollar cases, David understands the importance of each case to his client, and he approaches each with the same intensity and integrity that has served him - and his clients - so well for so long.

For David Beck, every case is a story to be told, and very few trial lawyers can match David's ability to convey that story to the jury. And he knows that the story is best told from the highest moral ground. That is ground on which he has stood his entire career. When David tells a jury he will show them evidence to make a point, you can bet that when he stands up in closing argument he will have honored his word. Maybe that is why so many companies call him with their "bet the company" cases.

REPRESENTATIVE EXPERIENCE

Served as trial co-counsel with Joe Jamail for Clear Channel Communications in a state court action brought by Clear Channel in San Antonio, Texas for tortious interference with contractual relations against Citigroup, Duetschebank, CreditSuisse, Morgan Stanley, Royal Bank of Scotland, and Wachovia. Clear Channel alleged that as credit markets worsened the banks were attempting to avoid their obligation to loan $22 billion to fund a leveraged buyout of Clear Channel by two private equity firms. After three months of contentious litigation with the banks, the parties reached a favorable settlement whereby the banks would provide $18 billion to fund a reworked merger agreement.

Obtained defense verdict for Memorial Hermann Hospital System in a major antitrust lawsuit in Texas state court as lead counsel. Assisted by Beck Redden partner Geoff Gannaway, the trial lasted almost two and a half months. The plaintiffs, who were physician-investors in a now defunct physician-owned hospital in West Houston, claimed that Memorial Hermann was responsible for their hospital's failure and asserted antitrust claims and claims for tortious interference with prospective and existing business relationships. The plaintiffs sought millions in actual damages, plus several millions in attorneys' fees. The jury entered a complete defense verdict.

Lead trial counsel for Level 3 Communications, Global Crossing, and Qwest Communications in a patent infringement action tried to a federal court jury in Marshall, Texas. The companies, builders/owners of the cable infrastructure of the internet, were accused of infringing patent claims related to voice-over-internet-telephony ("VOIP"). The case settled favorably after the patent owner presented its evidence to the jury.

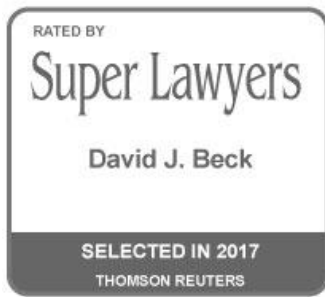

Lead trial counsel for Becton Dickinson ("BD") in a patent infringement lawsuit brought by Retractable Technologies Inc. (RTI"). RTI claimed BD had infringed patents relating to retractable syringes. The case was tried to a jury before United States District
